Airight Steven.
This is it.

DAVE!! HOW COULD YOU?!

What! I'm just giving him a bath!

No, this.

Who is Sally?

Ohhhhhh.

Is it ... mold?

Whatever it is, things got out of hand fast
